It gives me this error message: SLL2012: Error in filename'map': bad character in string Error in filename 'RL': bad character in string Error in filename 'TFW': bad character in string I've tried to change the library to a newer version, but I also have the same error on all of those 3 files. I'm using apache, so I had to change the file lib to ssl. I've downloaded the latest version of SDL map and found that the missing.dll file has been added into the zip file, but I still get the same error. Re: SLL 2012 Map Thanks for the answer. I read those threads but still no answers. I have tried to add that missing.dll file, but no success. It doesn't work even after adding the file. Tumor suppressor protein PTEN is expressed in benign human transitional cell carcinoma in situ (TCCIS). Protein phosphatase and tensin homolog (PTEN), a tumor suppressor gene in the phosphatidylinositol-3-kinase (PI3K) pathway, was found to be inactivated by mutation or deletion in different human tumors, which includes gastric carcinoma, breast cancer, and endometrial carcinoma. We recently identified a recurrent insertion of a chromosome 10 allele in bladder cancer. Using a PCR-based method, we examined the expression of PTEN in mal
