RPG: An RPG with a good fantasy world and a nice story, offering multiple game play scenarios SCREENSHOTS: Gameplay The game can be played with either the mouse and keyboard or the controller. There are no limits to the number of times you can enter combat. Besides enemies who can be fought in combat, there are enemy monsters, which appear when you go outside. In addition to battles, a medieval fantasy world full of animals and monsters is recreated as one of the most impressive aspects of the game. You can fight in weapons such as sword, spear, axe, and gun, and in defensive shields. Battle is not limited to the number of strikes you can make in a single turn. You can use special items such as potions, shields, and guns, as well as spellcasting. It is possible to combine weapons, move your character in different directions, and use a variety of magic from class-based magic to spellcasting. The picturesque and well-designed background is full of emotion to create a pleasant atmosphere. The mysterious atmosphere that you can create while exploring the world, or the tactical motions of battles, and the action that flows in a well-designed world are both impressive.
