(2019 film) Vengeance is a 2019 American crime action thriller film directed by Simon Kinberg and written by Daniel and Josh Stolberg, starring Tom Hardy, Lauren Cohan, Scott Douglas, Chemleng Theron, and Beau Knapp. The film follows a conman who targets an ex-cop during the Ojai Music Festival. The film premiered at the Sundance Film Festival on January 18, 2019 and was released in the United States on May 24, 2019, by Amazon Studios. Plot In 1962 Los Angeles, the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department lead a raid on the Ojai Music Festival. Mike Decker is a blacklisted former LAPD Detective and his wife, Carol, is secretary at event sponsor JMP Capital. For much of the raid, Carol witnesses Damien Ryan, the proprietor of a part-time DJ who plays non-stop electronic dance music, attempting to put his DJ equipment into his van. Decker, who has worked the station for over 40 years, senses something amiss and interrogates Ryan while Carol looks for her husband in the crowd. After leaving the station, Decker spots Ryan having a suspicious conversation with an old hippie at the side of the road and follows him. Upon blocking his car and revving his engine, Decker attempts to take down Ryan, offering him a deal to buy the equipment, which he refuses to sell. During Decker and Carol's conversation, JMP Capital head Ramsey Landers asks her for a photocopy of Bob Benson, Decker's next of kin. Lori Kibby, Fletcher O'Meara's sole employee, leaves work early and joins friends at the bar. Garth Moore tells the group that his youngest son, Oliver, died, which is true. During a ride home with JMP Capital's limousine driver, Decker goes to offer supplies to the search party for Oliver. Encountering Bob Benson on the side of the road, Decker notices a tattoo on his wrist and asks him to show his "Devil's hand." Decker then demands $300 from the old hippie, who knows nothing of his missing son. The group return to the investigation site and find Oliver's truck missing, with a note on its seat from Damien Ryan to Decker. Carol dies in the raid and from her office, Decker discovers Carol's file on Bob Benson. Fletcher O'Meara tells him the man is an addict who used to abuse her. Pursuing Oliver's tracks, the

My LSTM is a bit overkill, so what I would like to do is just to output the hidden layer, and append the last output of the last batch to it, giving me a new one-dimensional vector. I currently have the following:
input_seq = [X] hidden_seq = [] for i in

range(input_seq.size(1)): # drop any items in the input_seq that are higher than the max input_seq =
drop_mask(input_seq, max(input_seq))
X, hidden = lstm_layer(input_seq)
hidden =

output_dim)(hidden) hidden = Dropout(dropout, inplace=True)(hidden) hidden_seq.append(hidden) # When I do this I don't get any error # so I assume the dropout isn't behaving as expected # however when I uncomment the code, I get the following error # unable to cast from # mxnet.executor.DecodeProtosToOrdinals to # mxnet.ndarray.NDArray, required by op Dropout max_seq = hidden_seq[-1] However, I'm getting an error, and I'm not entirely sure what it means: Unable to cast from mxnet.exe
