In addition, with the cloud, users can easily access company email at any time from anywhere, which makes the process of knowing what is going on much simpler. thanks for your quick replies. i have to admit that i did not think of the listbox. but i don't know why i didn't. i did not find any help in the documentation. well, here is my problem. i upgraded my hp pavillion from windows 7 to windows 10. i also installed the latest version of toshiba network emanager on my laptop. when i click on the download button, i get a popup saying that i need to have "microsoft visual c++ redistributable for visual studio 2015". i'm using visual studio 2012 and windows 7. how can i install the latest version of the software? i'm trying to install toshiba network emanager on my windows 10 pro 64-bit laptop and keep getting an error that the sysocmgr.exe file located in c:\windows\system32 is missing. i looked and it is missing and tried downloading the file online and copying there and it still can't find it. how can i get this file and make the software work any input is appreciated. with toshiba's call center applications, your call statistics and management reports and live monitoring displays are conveniently accessible online. view live displays and customized reports on everything from call statistics and agent performance to forecasting tools, auto reports, and more using any of several pc-based reporting solutions that are ideal for use with acd applications. just wanted to let you know that i figured out what the issue was. the one touch key i had removed was the ext. 500 and by doing so unassociated that station as the owner. just by adding the ext. 500 back did not solve the problem. i blanked out the key assignment and then went into the phantom dn and cleared the owner box. i then went back into key assignments and added the ext. 500 before re-establishing ownership in the phantom dn. it appears that without the proper sequence it will not correct itself. i hope this can help someone else dealing with a cix670 system and network emanager. thanks again! 5ec8ef588b
